In Memoriam

L. C. Colvin—March 8, 1897—
February 4, 1944

In those few words is contained a deeper meaning and significance than merely the dates encompassed by one man's life. Reading those words, we, as students and teachers of D.T.H.S. remember more—

We remember L. C. Colvin as a teacher, an instructor who enjoyed teaching as he enjoyed students. We remember that he remembered, that his active mind was a storehouse for facts, large and small, with which to strengthen friendship and to enrich conversation. We remember that L. C. Colvin was a true sportsman. We remember his quiet way of carrying on, regardless of difficulty. We remember him as one interested in everything about him—a man who loved life—a man whom life loved.

We are proud to have had such a teacher and friend.

Dear Jayce
 It's been grand having you in my typing class this year always been so sweet

Dear Jayce -
 That much happiness to write about. Glad to see ya back kid.

 J. L.

Dear Jayce,
 How all mixed up you were. You're back it is when you're back to school. Love-Lud

Devoted To

S. B. Sullivan, Superintendent

The true nucleus of our school, the hub of her varied activities is the main office. Under the guidance of Mr. S. B. Sullivan and the school board, aided by the office and janitor staffs, the school year has been a productive and worthwhile one.

Mr. S. B. Sullivan, formerly of West Frankfort, took over the administrative duties long before the school year began. His belief that a school becomes outstanding through a well organized staff, high student morale, and high community interest is made evident by his accomplishments in his first year at D.T.H.S.; the administrative plan, introduction of the merit system, all school government, support of the recreation center program are only a few of his contributions!

Behind the scenes is the Board of Education, playing a necessary role. An integral part of the school, its five members are concerned with all phases of school business and activity giving untiring of their time to educational interests and to the improvement of the building itself. Dr. O. W. Nelson closes 12 years as a board member with Walter Benson being elected and Russell Rasmusen being re-elected for the second three year term. Walter Renner has served for two years, Mrs. Stewart for four years and Dr. J. A. Spickerman for three years.

Mrs. Stewart, Mr. W. Renner, Mr. R. Rasmusen, Dr. J. A. Spickerman, Dr. O. W. Nelson.

High Ideals

"May I have some change?—an identification slip?—the activities calendar?—an excuse?"

All these questions and a miscellany of others are answered by Tillie Swanson and Joan Bierman. With student helpers, they comprise an energetic and capable office staff. Both Miss Swanson and Miss Bierman are well known to the student body because of their cheerful answers and varied services. Theirs is the realm of typing, bookkeeping, student records, statistics and financial accounts.

Six men form the staff of janitors and engineers whose business it is to keep the school building in efficient working order—clean, well heated and ventilated, smoothly functioning. Ray Pollock is chief engineer. Nels Johnson, chief janitor, is assisted by George Berg, Nels L. Johnson, Gus Gustafson, and Eric Ford. To these men and their endless round of scrubbing and stoking we owe a great deal.

The administrative duties, these various activities which make our school efficiently run, are well taken care of. To Mr. Sullivan, members of the school board, the office staff and the janitors—all students of D.T.H.S. are deeply indebted.

Dearest Joyce—You beautiful creature you!
I am awfully sorry that this year has been so full that I didn't get to know you really well! (I honestly wanted to) Maybe we can get together some other times You're really swell kiddo and I still love
you!
Love,
Evelyn

Seniors In Review

M. L. Spickerman, M. Robertson, D. Schultz, J. Ranta, K. Yocum

As the procession of grey caps and gowns, our class of '44', files out the auditorium, we carry with us many pictures of our four years in high school.

Remember the first time our class got together? It was our sophomore picnic with enough dill pickles and baked beans for all. Baseball and other games—gobs of fun!

Then came our junior year and President Carl Wisdom with help from Vice president Joyce Ranta, Secretary Jane Groves, Treasurer Ray Kasmar, and Sergeant-at-arms Bob Cunz organized that memorable junior party. We turned out en masse to celebrate a hilarious Halloween. Thanks to Mr. Reihsen, things were kept "popping" all evening.

Remember how anxious we all were to go to our first prom? Among the girls, formals and who was dating who, was current conversation. With the fellows you heard "Can Susie and I double with you," or "What kind of flowers would go with a red formal?"

The night came for the Senior-Junior "Victory" Prom. We danced to Herbie Palmer's music, drank punch—a picture we'll never forget.

Oh, that junior picnic! The floor show with Marcia Bannister as master-of-ceremonies. Prof was there and helped a four piece dance band put on the jam session that concluded the evening. Memory book addicts found many pictures to fill their pages that night.

We surely worked hard to make our junior-senior prom just as big a success. Gosh, we had fun cutting and painting waves. Herbie Palmer's band again presided over the "Moonlight Cruise." It was the perfect bon voyage for last year's seniors.

This year has been ours. Joyce Ranta was chosen to lead our class with Mary Lou Spickerman as Vice president, Maxine Robertson as Secretary, Kenneth Yocum as Treasurer, and Dean Schultz as Sergeant-at-arms.

It was our turn to put on the first prom this year and so came the "Ice Carnival". The penguins, the totem poles and the igloo blended with soft lights gave the effect of an ice blue winter scene. We rushed around like mad getting ready for it, but we had fun from start to finish.

Our senior play was presented earlier than usual this year. As a result the month of March found us knee deep in play rehearsals, paint brushes, and props. Everyone worked untiringly for the minute when the first curtain was to go up. On March 30 and 31 "June Mad" was presented to a full house and acclaimed a great success both nights. Another picture to add to the many we have already collected.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Character, leadership, service, and scholarship were the standards by which members of National Honor Society were elected by their fellow students and the faculty.

All upperclassmen scholastically in the upper quarter of their class, were eligible for election into this honor society. In the election each junior and senior voted on the eligibility list of his respective class. The faculty then voted on the nominees of both classes. The highest fifteen per cent of the senior nominees and highest five per cent of the junior nominees are admitted to the society. The present junior class will elect an additional eight per cent in their senior year. Juniors are automatically members in their senior year if their present scholastic rating is maintained.

D. A. R. AWARD

Leadership and participation in school activities, were the standards by which her fellow students and faculty chose Evelyn Carlson to be 1943-1944 D. A. R. Citizenship award winner. All Illinois winners' names were sent to Springfield where the state representative was chosen by lottery.

SCIENCE AWARD

Each year the senior who has made the most progress in his four years of natural science courses receives the Bausch, Lomb Honorary Science Award. This year this honor went to William Clausen who maintained an average in general science, biology, chemistry and physics.

Freshmen daze—and this year brought 125 bewildered "Freshies" to the halls of D.T.H.S. Staggering under huge piles of books, they soon found their way around without much difficulty. Studying paid dividends, for at the end of the first six weeks the names of Dean Miller, Robert Barr, Edward Dieter, Owen Mathre, Jean Buland, Patty Gunther, Eva Shatto, and Nancy Zulauf appeared on the honor roll.

Nothing was stopping these freshmen as they went ahead to organize their class—the first Freshmen class in D.T.H.S. history to be organized. Roger Sanderson, the blonde blue-eyed favorite was the successful candidate for the president. Nancy Zulauf took over the vice-president's duties and Dale Makarrall claimed office as secretary. Capable Lloyd Wisdom handled the financial affairs while Mike Plesa stepped in as sergeant-at-arms.

Sports—and here we see the freshmen boys all out for lightweight activities. Seen on the gridiron and hardwoods were Kenneth Cain, Mark Luoma, Lloyd and Lyle Wisdom, Howard Crisler, Dale Makarrall and Jerry Hannan. Ambitious football managers Fred Felton and Dean Miller were on hand at every game. And that tiny, peppy cheerleader yelling "Go, Barbs, Go" was none other than Margie Groves.

In the spotlight for dramatics, was Alayne Gordon, Marilyn Simkins, Mona Ingham and Betty Bradt. They proved their talent in Dramatic Club.

The band welcomed several freshmen this year. Behind the high bass was Roger Sanderson, and the two bashful trombonists, were Martha Self and Bill Edwards. Our one remaining drummer welcomed Bob Dill and Bud Taylor to the section, while Eddie Dieter played that "sharp" sax.

We're proud of the Freshmen Class of '43-'44.

Sophomores, sophomores — everywhere!! Fall found them registering for all the activities their schedules could include. As the year went along, sophomores were taking the lead in studies, athletics, dramatics, and music.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Rutledge, and Mr. Hoppe, the class got off to a good start. Jack Mosher, capably filled the position of president, and Delbert Ainsworth stepped into vice-presidency. Secretarial duties were Marjorie Male's responsibility, while Marcella Carlson took over all financial business. Cyrus Dunlap filled the office of sergeant-at-arms.

The Sophomore Class of "44" was definitely an energetic and active organization. Remember that "Fall Festival Mixer" sponsored by the class to climax the sale of football tickets? The boy's gym was colorfully decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins for the gala affair!

High scholastic honors were received by many of the studious sophomores. We consistently found these students on the honor roll: Anja Hietikko, Betty Jean Jacox, Leila Foster, Betty Kendall, Jack Mosher, and Richard Roberts.

In the athletic limelight, the fellows were active on the field and in the gym. Jack Mosher, Delbert Ainsworth, Cyrus Dunlap, Milburn Kensinger, and Bob Peterson proved to be the sophomore satellites. Going along with the athletes, we found Marcella Carlson, the head-cheerleader, and Frances Snyder, a new sophomore cheerleader.

"Dark Town Jamboree" gave many of the sophomore dramatists a chance to shine. Naomi Goveia, Betty Friested, Rosemary Dugan, and Helen Cook proved their theatrical talents. Leila Foster and Tony Yusunas demonstrated their dramatical ability in the Christmas play. Leila was also a staunch negative speaker on the debate squad.

In the field of music, we found many sophomores. Every band period we heard the aspiring sophomore musicians giving out with some of that "solid" music.

All in all, the Sophomore Class of 1944 has been an outstanding success!

Versatile—a one word description of the class of '45. For proof of this, imagine snatches of conversation anywhere juniors gather—

"May I see your rebuttal notes?" "Neat sketch!" "Is that flat in the second score, Betty?" "Copy due tomorrow". Where's my script, Marge?" "No typing paper" "Touch down!"

And so on through an eventful first year as upperclassmen. Roger Still, of Minstrel fame, was chosen president with Corrine Hakala, as his assistant. Elmi Maki made a conscientious secretary while Sid Felder handled monetary affairs until February, when the Navy beckoned.

Officers, however, need advisers to rely upon. Mr. Dayton and Miss Bachmann were advisory chairmen until the latter joined the Army Nurse Corps and Miss Donahoe became her successor. Other junior advisers were Miss Kellman, Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Raddatz and Mr. Lindgren.

With such capable leaders the juniors could not help but succeed. They can look back on a year filled with activity. Football—the festival — bond buying — first prom — gala junior party and picnic and finally their own prom on May 5, a veritable fairyland, make a memorable year.

David Gray, Joyce Thorpe and Mary Ellen Spere continued outstanding work in speech and dramatics. Tom Homoutz and Jack Runnells were noted for their corn-fed jokes. Literary abilities were shown on publications staffs, nor were art and music neglected.

Two thirds of the majorettes were juniors. Jean Anderson was chosen flag twirler and Charlotte Lawson cheerleader. Several juniors became members of Quill and Scroll, and, for the first time, several were elected to membership in the National Honor Society.

On the football field, basketball floor and track, juniors cheered their athletes, among them John Bolen, Matt Pesut, Sid Felder, Dick Clark, Dick Harrison, Ray Callahan, Orin Klengson, Gene Stockstill, Richard Zulauf, and Don Wooters.

Junior achievements have been many and varied. The class can be proud of its versatility.

Victory Story

If a thing is worth doing at all, it is worth doing well. If ever this saying was highly sustained, it was so done by the superb, hard fighting '43 Barb football team. All the way through their schedule, including the glorious triumphant championship game with Princeton, the team deserves commendation not only for their fine physical performance, but also for their magnificent display of sportsmanship, monumental traits of true champions.

In the first contest of the year, the well-drilled, hard-driving Barb machine relinquished a 12-7 count to Kewanee on a breathtaking punt run back by Kewanee's star player.

Challenging Princeton's mythical "white charger," the DeKalb lads eked a tight 7-0 win in a very evenly matched encounter.

With their backs to the wall, but in true championship form, the Barbs stifled a fourth quarter threat to their single goal lead and took a rough 14-12 decision over Hall Township.

The game of the season was DeKalb's encounter with the Dixon Dukes. In this game, with their aerial attack clicking in the final quarter, the Barbs passed themselves to a 14-7 triumph.

With two games to go for the coveted N. C. I. C., the Barbs thwarted a valiant but vain Sterling invasion in a 26-0 win.

In great elation and relief, the Barb fans saw them down a tricky "pass-happy" Ottawa squad, 21-13, on the Pirates own field, which gave them the conference crown.

In the most superbly played game of the season, the Barbs downed the vengeful Princeton team, 20-0, for the N. C. I. C. championship.

A highly successful and commendable season ended for the Barbs when they literally, "took to the cleaners" their traditional county-seat rivals in an almost effortless 39-0 encounter.

An epitaph of praise is in order for the outgoing seniors and our indefatigable, modest coach, Mr. Reihsen.

FRESHMAN-SOPHOMORE

In a fair game session, the Freshman-Sophomore squad brought five victories and one tie. The scores were: Sycamore 0, DeKalb 7; Rochelle 6, DeKalb 6; Sycamore 0, DeKalb 21; Sterling 0, DeKalb 24; Rochelle 7, DeKalb 14.

Much credit should be given to Coach Dayton who managed and developed such an outstanding team. From this year's experience and hard practice, these boys will develop into excellent future varsity players.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

The Barbs climaxed another year of football by winning the N.C.I.C. championship. Since Coach Reihsen has entered the Barb campus DeKalb has won three championships in the past three years and has won 21 out of the last 25 games. Without the assistance of Dertinger and Kittleson this task of having a successful season would have been one of great difficulty. Bob Cunz was awarded the most valuable player trophy and "Louie" Male was elected captain of the team.

As the season unrolled, the Barbs met Shabbona in their first clash of the season and nabbed a close four point victory. The following Friday found DeKalb invading Ottawa and dropping a 33 to 29 battle.

In the Holiday Tournament that followed these two tilts, DeKalb started out with a bang to defeat the Waterman five 39 to 17. The second game was lost to an old rival, Sycamore, who also advanced from their first game to compete in the finals where they lost to Kankakee by one point.

Revenge was the big word of the Barbs when they met Sycamore for a second time in a scheduled game on the Spartans' hardwoods. This time the tables turned, and as the final whistle blew, DeKalb was on top of a 27 to 19 battle. From this game on, the Barbs were on the road to recovery and registered victories over Belvidere, Sterling, Waterman, Ottawa, Rock Falls and Sandwich, an unbroken seven game winning streak.

The '43-'44 season found the Barbs engaged in a few thrillers. One of these being DeKalb vs. Rock Falls tilt, at Rock Falls, in which the Barbs held an eleven point lead until the last three minutes of the final frame. The Rock Falls Rockets then staged a fancy show on bucket tossing and came within two points of winning the contest.

DeKalb again battled to a close victory with Waterman on the Barb's home floor. Both teams matched points throughout the game. Toward the end of the contest Waterman held an eight point advantage, but the Barbs poked nine quick points through the net and emerged the victor 40, 39.

Toward the end of the season Hall Township invaded and set the Barbs back on their heels by defeating them 44 to 40.

DeKalb led only once in the first period, from then on it was Hall paving the way. As the game drew to a close the Barbs began to rally with a quick spurt of baskets but the Spring Valley boys were too far in the lead and won by four points.

The next six games were lost in close heart-breakers, including an overtime tilt in Dixon.

During the 43-44 season the Barbs reached the peaks, hot and cold. A seven game losing streak comprised the total in the conference. Five victories and five losses gave DeKalb the position of fifth place in NCIC standings.

The Frosh-Soph squad, under the direction of Coaches Reihlsen and Dertinger, were as well balanced as any of their opponents. Although they had their bad games as well as good ones, the team showed definite improvement throughout the year.

DeKalb was a threat to other lightweight squads and proved its ability against taller teams. The Barblets' mainstay was speed, as was true with the varsity.

At the first of the year, DeKalb got off to a good start by defeating Mendota, Belvidere, and Hall Township, but as the season advanced the boys fell into a losing slump and lost to such teams as Sterling, Sycamore, Belvidere, Rochelle, and Mooseheart by one or two points.

The material that will advance from this season's team should be excellent and contribute much to the varsity next year.

STUDENT MANAGERS

The most important hockey game during the eight weeks was the senior-college game. Although the seniors put up a hard fight, they were overpowered by the invading co-eds.

Saturday morning hikes proved to be a workout greatly enjoyed by the hikers.

Again the seniors played a college team but this time in a bitterly contested basketball game. That game was a hard one for the seniors to lose, but again the college girls proved too much for them.

INTRAMURAL BOWLING—Row 1: M. Plesa, E. Dieter, W. Chesher, W. Smith, H. Lovell, B. Richardson, R. Weiherman, D. Stenstrom, P. Pecelj, H. Lindus. Row 2: D. Carlson, D. Schultz, T. Stevens, H. Rich, R. Everett, L. Ireland.

Closely following the end of the football season the intramural cagers began their season of scheduled games every noon. The intramural program offered to the boys a chance to participate in sports when otherwise this would have been impossible. The boys had a lot of fun while learning the rudiments of the game.

With the introduction of a noon hour program that divided the lunch period into two hours, third and fourth, a new program had to be instigated. Mr. Dayton supervised the third hour group, while Mr. Reihsen took over the fourth. Twelve teams were formed, the third hour having five teams made up of the thirty-five boys who had signed up for that period. The fourth hour had forty-nine fellows who had signed up. They were divided into seven teams.

These teams played Monday through Friday until the second semester when the third hour group was slated to play on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday.

Each hour had its own tournament to decide the winners; Dean Schultz's team was the winner of the third hour group with Perrin's team placing second. Kenny Cain's team ended up the leader for the fourth hour with Don Lyons's second. Many a game could be better called a battle, for the competition was high between the teams.

Meeting once every week, D.T.H.S.'s intramural keglers battled it out during the winter months. The captains of the bowling teams were Jim Cobourn, Oliver Everett, Dick Harrison, John Bolen, Mervin Olson, and David Gray. There were thirty-five boys who signed up for bowling for the six teams.

The intramural sports program consisting of basketball, bowling, and baseball was well supervised and contributed much to the school and to the individual student. Many boys have found a place on the basketball team and others through intramural.

The DeKalb track team enjoyed a very successful season, winning a good share of the meets.

The squad had four varsity lettermen back from last year's team, the remainder of the team consisting of veterans from last year's Frosh-Soph team and also new track aspirants. Cunz came through again, having many a shot put. The track fans saw only a flash when Lyons, Lawson, Male, and Carson showed their heels to the opponents. Gray and Ainsworth set grueling paces in the mile and half-mile runs. Soaring up and over the vaulting bar was Stanley Burdette.

Much diligent work and patience went into making up the fine track squad! Every night during the season the boys reported on the cinder path for a long session. Coach Dertinger, the man behind the track boys, deserves much credit for their success.

Each meet in which the Barbs participated was a stepping stone toward the climax of the season when the varsity squad entered the conference meet at Sterling.

The Girl's Athletic Association calendar this year has been one packed full of fun both in social and athletic events.

Soccer and hockey started the activities this fall. Rain or shine, cold or mud, the girls turned out to participate in their favorite sport.

Came "Old Man Winter" and with it basketball, swimming, bowling, and the "Injun Jam."

Several girls, who went out for swimming, passed their Junior and Senior Lifesaving tests. This took a lot of work on the part of these girls.

Fellas and girls alike remember the "Injun Jam" — the multicolored feathers, Indian blankets and little tepees! Those lucky people who won the raffle took home a delicious Thanksgiving dinner in that live duck they received.

The annual G. A. A. banquet was held at Christmas time in the cafeteria. In a Yuletide atmosphere, the freshman girls were initiated into the association and several members received awards.

It was at this time that Miss Bachmann told of plans of leaving D. T. H. S. to go into the Army Nurse Corps. In no way could we amply express our thanks for all the things she had done for us. To a grand teacher and adviser, we wish the best of luck in her new work.

Mrs. Anderson came to us as our G. A. A. adviser and has been a really helpful and co-operative leader.

Volley ball and individual sports took the place of basketball and bowling during February and March. Springtime found girls out on the basketball diamond and archery range. These sports finished up the athletic activities for the year.

Of course we can't forget the annual posture campaign and award nor the G. A. A. picnic. And last but not least that eagerly awaited day when more awards were given out.

G. A. A.—an organization standing for good sportsmanship and fair play. It has been the haven for many active sportsminded girls this year.

The voice of the students — that's the Student Council! As a representative government of the students, the Council is a democratic organization composed of one member from each of the twenty-four home rooms, thus, freshmen, sophomores, juniors and seniors are equally represented by the leaders they have chosen. The members of the Council listen to problems and difficulties which confront the student body and then take action to correct them.

Inspired by their extremely capable adviser, Miss Donahoe, the Student Council had a very successful year. Robert Cunz, who was the student body representative, automatically became President of the Council. The members of the council elected David Gray, Vice President; Jane Groves, Secretary, Louis Male, Treasurer; and Mary Lou Spickerman, Publicity Chairman.

This year for the first time, the Student Council joined the Illinois State Student Council Association. They sent five delegates to the State Convention held at the Hotel Sherman in Chicago. Council problems were discussed and many new ideas were brought home.

The Student Council sponsored many activities throughout the year. The Football Festival, one of their biggest events, brought a fitting climax to the victorious football season and also set the pace for the vigorous schedule the Council followed all the year!

After many of the basketball games this year, the Council sponsored all-school dances. Also on May 19, the Council formal dance, "The Tropical Sway", was a gala affair!

The Student Council has proved its patriotism in many ways. An honor roll of service men and women of D.T.H.S. has been compiled by the Council. Also a drive to send Barblets to former D.T.H.S. students in service was one of the their projects.

The Student Council set high standards of service and achievement and maintained a fine reputation. Another big year can be marked down for the Student Council!

"Hello! May I help you?" Yes, that's right—the pleasant voice is that of a Student Receptionist. One of the sixteen "ready, willing and able," receptionists is present at the front entrance each hour of the school-day.

The Receptionists greet visitors to D.T.H.S. and guide them to any part of the building they wish to visit. Besides greeting guests the receptionists perform many other useful duties such as maintaining order in the halls, and helping the office force.

The student receptionists are sponsored by the Student Council and most of the sixteen Receptionists are Council members.

The services of the Student Receptionists made guests and former students feel that they were really welcome at D.T.H.S. These students could always be counted on to do any task assigned and incidentally—with a smile!

TIME: Wednesday afternoon after school.

PLACE: The library or band room.

SCENE: A regular Girl Reserve meeting presided over by president, Sue Ann Ingham.

There you have a picture of a typical meeting of the Girl Reserves. The first get together of the year was a joint picnic with the G. A. A. Mouths watered as the roasted wieners were pulled out of the campfire. Ghost stories, told around the fire, sent shivers up and down the spine. A great time to start the new year.

The annual Father-Daughter party proved a great success again. Program chairman, Marilyn Ritzman took charge of the games and really put the party goers through their paces. As the evening took an air of grace and dignity, fathers showed their daughters how the waltz was done "back in the good old days."

At Christmas time, the Girl Reserves collected money which was given to the Red Cross in honor of Miss Carnal who is now serving with the WACs overseas.

"Chinatown" was the gala setting for the Girl Reserve Formal. Herbie Palmer's rendition of "Chinatown" gave an added zest to the oriental atmosphere. At 11:30, the "Goo Bi Glide" ended a "velly" nice party.

Girl Reserves have their serious moments, too. During Lent, they, together with the Hi-Y club, sponsored early morning services in observance of Holy Week. These meetings helped us grasp a little better perhaps, the true meaning of Easter.

The month of May found the organization midst Mother and Daughter Banquet, Senior Tea, and Eighth Grade Party. These occasions closed an active year for all Girl Reserves.

Those who "followed the gleam" through 43-44 will long remember the many pleasant associations and good times they had as a member of the Girl Reserves.

"I've got something here I'd like you to see—a record of the year's events of the Dramatic Club in pictures. Dust off the step and sit yourself down, and I'll tell you just what's doin' in them and who's doin' it."

"This first one, is a picture of Mrs. McKinzie shaking hands with David Gray after junior and senior clubs became one. The little girl smiling in the background is Mary Lou Spickerman, this year's president."

This is a pretty good shot of the cast of "Reunion at Christmas." The other play picture beside it was called by the cast "Street Cleaners Paradise" or "Dust of the Road."

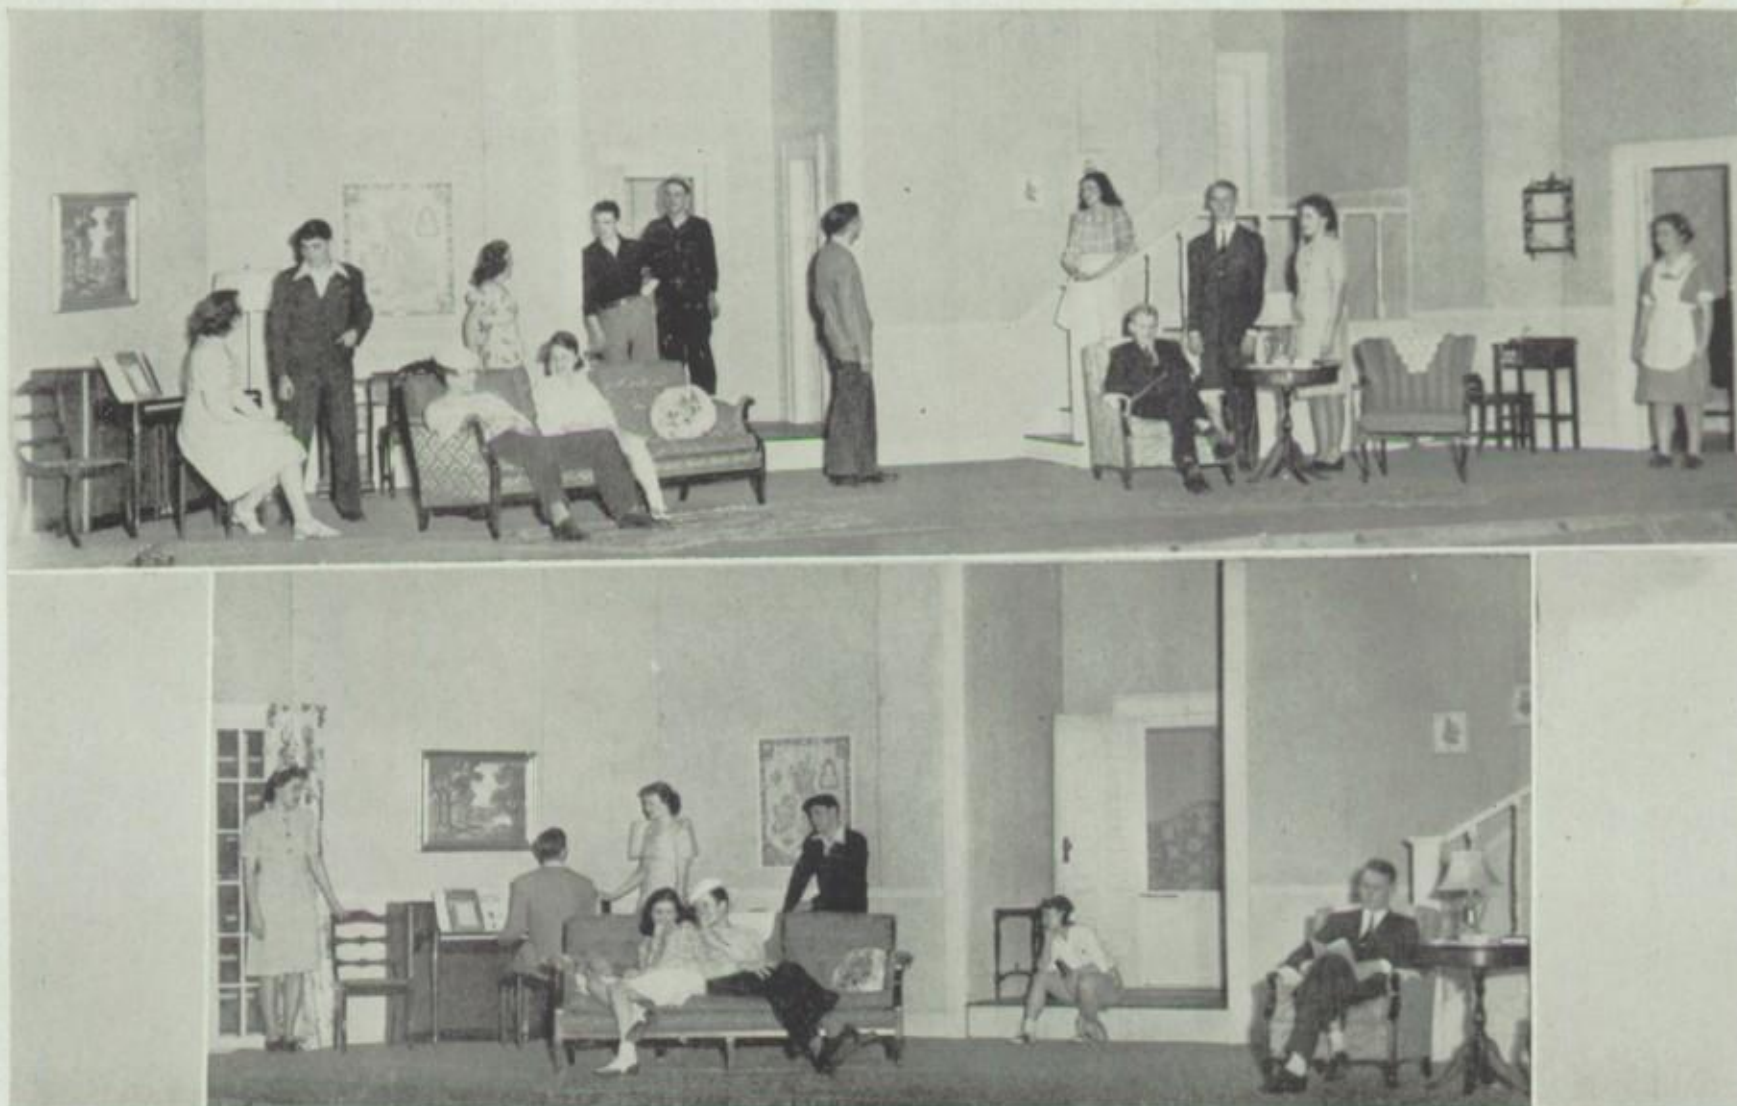

"Now to any normal person this next picture would be a blackout. The black part of it is true, but it's on the faces of people who were definitely in The Minstrel Show. Yes, it's a behind curtain picture of Darktown Jamboree. Those big bow ties are connected to Still and Homoutz respectively. That picture of the big bank roll—taken shortly after the profit was counted—didn't stay that way very long for all the profit was donated to the lounge."

"Now we're getting toward the end. The snap on the top of the page was taken after the last curtain had fallen on Play Night. The casts haven't turned their backs on us because they are timid—They're taking off make-up that's all."

"Now we're at the last picture. It has printed in bold type THE END. And it is, but only for the photograph album. The club promises us an even better edition next year."

THE PLAY—"June Mad".
 THE DATE—March 30th or 31st.
 THE PLACE—DTHS auditorium.
 THE TIME—8:00 P. M.

Thus the months of tireless work of a large group of seniors bore fruit. Months before, the tryouts had been held and the cast chosen. Months ago the crew started construction and decoration of the set. Hours, days, and weeks had been spent in search of properties, in costuming, in distribution and collection of tickets, in publicizing the event, in creating the right lighting effects, in make-up, and above all in rehearsals, rehearsals, rehearsals, and dress rehearsals. For weeks the cast, the director, and the staff had been working in complete co-operation. This, then, was the result of all their time and labor.

The finished product was, indeed, worthy of the work that it had entailed. Said fact was proven by the loud acclaim given the play by its very large audiences.

Cheers for Miss Skeen who did a grand job of directing.

Hurrahs for the cast which gave two memorable performances in a manner that elicited the highest statements of approval from all quarters.

Bravos for those unsung heroes, the staff, without whose help backstage the performance could not have run smoothly.

Indeed, the least one can say of the senior class play of '44 is that it was successful.

Early in the fall when the debaters started work on the question, "Should the United States join in reconstituting the League of Nations," they knew that diligent work and concentrated study were ahead. Finally, after many weeks of research and practice under the efficient guidance of Miss Wentworth, Joyce Thorpe and David Gray, affirmative speakers, and Mary Ellen Spere and Leilla Foster, negative speakers, were ready for their first meet.

The debaters captured a second place in the Elgin Tournament early in January. Despite the fact that many large schools made competition stiff, D.T.H.S. debaters came through with flying colors and valuable experience. Another second place was awarded the debate squad in the Conference Debate at Mendota early in February. Soon after when DeKalb met West Aurora the two negative teams won decisions.

Perhaps the biggest event of the year for debaters was the privilege of taking part in the Invitational Tournament held at Augustana College.

Since there are no seniors to drop out of the debate team, a veteran squad will be expected to open the 1945 season

PRESS CLUB

A stepping stone to Quill and Scroll—the Press Club! To create and develop an active interest in writing is the purpose of the club. Membership is open to anyone who is interested in creative writing and who has had a minimum of ten inches of material published, or the recommendation of a faculty member for outstanding work in other fields of school publications. Under the direction of Miss O'Donnell, the club's adviser, an active program committee planned a varied program. The highlight of the year was the annual Press Club Banquet at which the the new members of Quill and Scroll were formally initiated.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is an international society of high school journalists. To be eligible, one must be an upperclassman, have a high scholastic rating, have 100 inches of printed material or its equivalent in the fields of business, art or creative writing, and the recommendation of the faculty supervisor.

Founded to encourage and reward individual achievements in journalism, the society has done much to increase interest in high school journalism courses.

In May, at the annual banquet, the new members were initiated into the society.

"Hold it!" The speaker may be Mr. Beaumont, photography adviser for the Barblet, or Marilyn Ritzman, photography editor, taking a new personality portrait or action shot for the school paper.

"All important phases of D.T.H.S. life and thought presented in pictures and stories," that was the motto of the Barblet. The morgue in the Press room has become a valuable source of school history, events, and people. "What's New," the gossip column, and "Little Brown-Jug", the sports column, gave the students inside news and locker room gossip. "After a Fashion" kept up-and-coming students posted on what high school charmers were wearing. Acting as a medium between the staff and students, the Barblet Box presented a cross-section of student opinion.

Always the first to promote or help promote campaigns for improvements, the Barblet crusaded for a lounge room and a recreation center. Opinions and ideals, which may be influential to public opinion, were presented through editorials. The Barblet served the student body as well as the staff.

Working on the Barblet provided training in writing and in leadership. Dependability, punctuality, co-operation were cultivated. Thus juniors found in the Barblet training for future Kalibre staffs.

This year the Barblet was revised from a top-rating mimeographed paper to a printed one. Pioneering in a new field, the staff had no model and therefore could not profit by the mistakes of previous years. Credit goes to Miss Larson's third-hour typing class who typed the copy. Although handicapped by an unusually small staff, with the assistance of Mrs. Rutledge, the adviser, and the student teachers, Mr. Alongi and Miss Casto, the Barblet continued to bring to students news and views of D.T.H.S.

The Kalibre Kids know all the answers—even the $64 question—"What do the letters in Kalibre stand for?" Quickly they might reply—

K—Knowledge—The knowledge of students, faculty members, and commercial advisers, was needed to prepare our Kalibre for '44. Ray Bowers, the photographer, was the source of much needed advice for the inexperienced staff members of September.

A—Art covers much more than meets the eye. Mounting and sketching took many hours of work by art editor, Joyce Ranta, and her staff, Jack Abbot, Wanda Risetter, and Betty Flusch. The balance and finished look of the '44 Kalibre is greatly due to this staff, under the supervision of Miss Kellman.

L—Literary work of the yearbook continued through the re-writes until the completed book went to press. Miss O'Donnell assigned copy and insured its completion by printer's deadlines. Her staff was composed of Ellen Montgomery, Barbara Paton, Betty Smith, Maxine Schoenholz, Ruth Wetz, Paul Kavadas and Pat Simkins.

The sports copy writers were Roger Still, Richard Newquist, John Bolen, Sid Felder, Bob Saksa, and Matt Pesut.

I—Industry as defined by Webster means "habitual diligence". Co-editors, Evelyn Carlson and Lloyd Ireland, as well as the various staff members certainly exercised habitual diligence by working throughout the year until the last Kalibre was distributed.

Miss Larson's advanced typing class contributed a great service by typing copy to be sent to the printers.

Special thanks is to be given to members of Miss O'Donnell's English classes, who helped the literary staff in writing copy.

Make-up and printing supervision was done by Mr. Kittleson.

B—Business, including both selling Kalibre subscriptions and businessmen's ads was handled by Mr. Hoppe, and his staff, Maxine Robertson, Jane Groves, Mary Lou Spickerman, and Sue Ann Ingham.

R—Research began with the first meeting with Mr. Colvin when the staff members first began their pursuit of facts and ideas. Perhaps the greatest research job was the service section done by Pat Simkins. Every senior of the last 3 years was listed with the class from which he graduated.

E—Effort is a meaningless word without action but by work and cooperation, the Kalibre staff and advisers completed this record of 1943 and 1944 in D.T.H.S.

Once again the chorus, under the adept direction of Mr. Raddatz, had a successful year.

The first semester's work included such popular numbers as "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," and "Whistling Girl". At the annual Christmas Party sponsored by the P. T. A., "The Cloud" by Fletcher proved to be such a hit that it was repeated at the Spring Concert given in April.

At the beginning of the second semester, Mr. Raddatz instructed the group in a capella selections, "How Blest Are They" proving the most popular.

In the absence of a mixed group, a small group of girls appeared before numerous clubs, Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church, Baptist Church Circle Meeting, Homemakers, and the American Legion. On March 14, the girls provided lovely music for Lutheran Church Lenten Service. As always, this small but mighty group wound up a successful year with their music at the Commencement Exercises.

Although the programs were few and far between, a group of three girls—Maxine Robertson, Pat Barton, and Barbara Bradt—made public appearances.

In Igloo Inn

On December 11, 1943 the seniors were hosts and hostesses at one of the most memorable events of the year—the Senior-Junior Prom. Totem poles, eskimos, and penguins made a picturesque setting for "Igloo Inn". Herbie Palmer's music blended with the soft lights and a wintry atmosphere made many unforgettable memories of the evening dancing. Punch was served from a realistic looking igloo at one corner of the dance floor.

To the martial sound of the music, the grand march was held. Joyce Ranta and Kenny Yocum led the colorful parade of dancers.

Much credit for the success of the senior party goes to the senior president Joyce Ranta, her committees, and the senior faculty advisers.

The Senior-Junior Prom will be a vivid picture in the minds of many for some years to come.

Always Prepared . . .

Probably no other organization of the high school is more in demand or as well supported by the community as is the band. This year it played at the Red Cross Basketball game, the Agricultural Association meeting, the Canners "A" award program and at many other events.

They might honestly claim the Motto of the Coast Guard—Semper Paratus.

We could have had more of this year I hope to think of you. I hope to see more of you.

We are all here at the three couples of the band.

The prize-winning organization the FFA has done it again! Under the able direction of Mr. Furr, FFA came through another year with flying colors. FFA's officers, President, Chuck Faivre; Vice-president, Chuck Orr; Secretary-treasurer, Harry Roland; and Reporter, Ronald Lothson were in a large part responsible for the success of this year.

The FFA (in case you don't already know) is a group of boys banded together for "the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship." Among the aims of the FFA are these: (1) to strengthen the boys' confidence in themselves, (2) to improve the farm and its environment, (3) to encourage good scholarship, and (4) to provide recreational activities for the members. The FFA motto is: "Learning to do, doing to learn, earning to live, living to serve."

At regular monthly meetings boys discussed agricultural methods.

Over ninety persons attended the annual Father-Son Banquet on December 7. Mr. Sullivan was the speaker of the evening.

Remember the ice cream the FFA boys made at their Christmas Party? Yum! Yum!

On the 21st of April the boys from the country put away their plows to make with the jive. The dance turned out to be one of the big successes of the year.

During the spring the FFA boys initiated their new members. From all reports it must have been more fun than Barnum and Bailey's Circus.

The FFA had some good judging teams and a really hot softball team this year. With all this and more too, the FFA wound up another successful year.

Hi-y Hi-lights

Row 1: D. Stenstrom, B. Butcher, N. Bodda, S. Stavrakas, R. Peterson, M. Eden, Mr. Emery. Row 2: E. Anderson, R. Foster, D. Miller, J. Hiland, P. Larsen, J. Runnells, D. Faivre. Row 3: D. Harrison, R. Elson, A. Griswold, J. Dunn, M. Winters, O. Everett, P. Kavadas, R. Saksa.

The Hi-Y presents these ten commandments as a highlight of the year 1943-1944.

1. Thou shalt not forget the purpose of the Hi-Y which is, "to create and maintain higher standards of Christian living throughout the school and community."

2. Thou shalt not forget the initiation, for though thou may have suffered (in certain spots) during it, thou must agree that it was worth it. Nor shalt thou forget the installation of officers and the oaths that were taken there.

3. Thou shalt remember "What the Hi-Y Ought to Be," for did not Mr. Sullivan point the way?

4. Thou shalt remember always the four planks upon which the Hi-Y stands—clean speech, good sportsmanship, clean scholarship, and clean living.

5. Thou shalt not forget the fun experienced at our "splash party" and at our picnic.

6. Thou shalt not forget the successful "March of Dimes" nor forget to continue this good work in the years to come.

7. Thou shalt always keep in mind the Holy Week service and the messages presented there.

8. Thou shalt not forget the value of life as it was explained by Reverend Billman.

9. Thou shalt not forget the clean fun and good comradeship that made "recreation period" an everlasting highlight in any Hi-Y meeting. Nor shouldst thou forget the many interesting and educational programs which were the main body of many meetings.

10. Thou shalt endeavor to make of thyself a better citizen not only of thy Hi-Y, but of thy school, community, and nation.

Cheer the Champs

Don't give that '43 calendar to the scrap drive! Keep it because some very important events occurred then. Take November for example, Thanksgiving wasn't the only red letter day. The whole week of the eighth through the twelfth has a red ring around it, and for a very special reason — D.T.H.S. spent the whole week cheering the champs!

On Armistice Day D.T.H.S. reached its peak when the team defeated Sycamore in the annual clash. In the evening the tennis courts were a scene of action and excitement when five hundred students crowded around a bonfire to celebrate the victory. Laughter and entertainment were furnished by many impromptu acts until time for the snake dance.

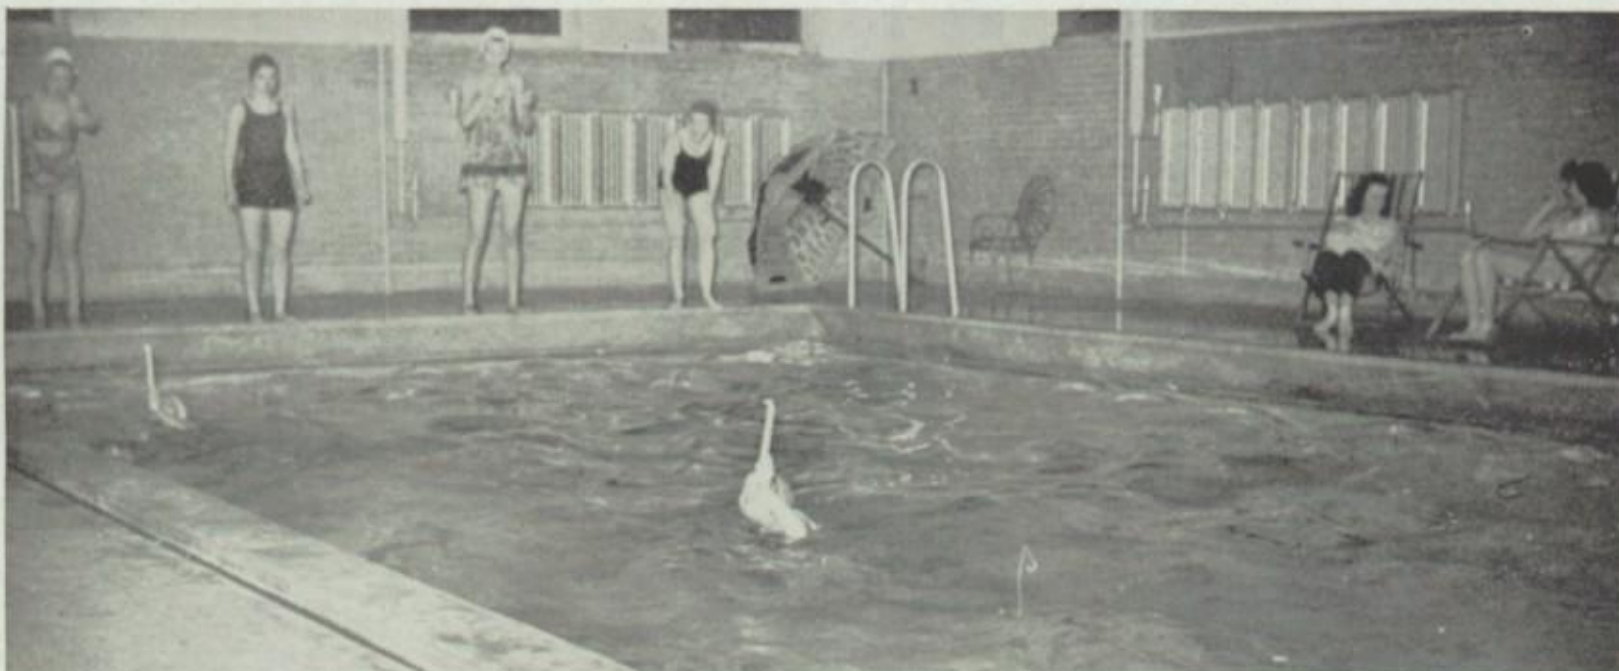

The gala snake dance was led by a truck bearing the football players and brought up by another with the fifteen candidates for queen. Final elections were held Friday morning.

Friday evening was packed with thrills. The auditorium was packed with people eager to see the football boys and the coronation. The heavy weight team occupied the right side of the stage and on the left was the light weight team. The speaker of the evening was H. V. Porter. Following that Mr. Sullivan gave a short speech, then Coach Reihsen presented the hard-earned letters to our football heroes.

Following this was the much anticipated coronation ceremony. The audience was thrilled at the lovely sight of the colorful court preceding the king and queen. A flurry of excitement and pleasure was created as the lovely queen, Joyce Ranta, and her handsome escort, Louis Male, ascended to the throne.

A Victory dance was held immediately afterward at which the school swingband played.

Mardi Gras Merriment

On the night of February 21, the Parent Teacher Association sponsored the Gala Mardi Gras. The profits, amounting to $784, were given to the lounge room for use in purchasing new furniture.

Throughout the evening dancing was held in "Duffy's". Several times during the night, crowds at the sports exhibition cheered the athletic show; while in the library, cuts from the minstrel show were reproduced. Those with aquatic interests found time spent at the swimming show, directed by Mrs. Anderson, most enjoyable.

In the Gypsy Tea Room one could peek into the future by having tea leaves read. Having been made up at Madam Fluff's Salon, many moved on to Antoinnes' Studio to be sketched or to have silhouette pictures taken.

To top off the evening, raffles were held. Prizes for this event, donated by DeKalb merchants, were climaxed by the grand prize—a $50 war bond.

Yes, the Mardi Gras may be completely described with one word—Success!

Service with a Smile

"Something new has been added" and in this case it's really new. What is it? What does it do? Well, if you ever need student assistance, call on the Service Club.

The club, which was directed by Miss Donahoe, made its first appearance when it distributed programs at the football games.

Whenever there was need for service the active people in the front line were there doing all they could to help. The Christmas tournaments would have been minus much of their holiday spirit if the members hadn't rolled up their sleeves and given the faculty some much needed help. Remember basketball signs in store windows—yes, that was another thing by the Service Club. When you heard the swish of a formal at some big occasion, here at school, the usher wearing it was a member of the Service Club. The Service Club members ushered for the Annual Spring Concert and also for the County Teacher's meeting. They demonstrated proficiency as waitresses and waiters when they served for various banquets held throughout the year.

This welcome addition has come to us as a great help to all and has subtracted much from our worry of "Who will do it?" for the Service Club proved ready, willing, and very able to help.

Remember the fellow who sat next to you in study hall? Remember "Johnny?" Whether in a tense moment in a football game or with a tough problem in "Math," Johnny always came through. When his country called for him, Johnny came through again! He turned in his "zoot suit" for the uniform of his country—his books for a gun. Graduation exercises will have to go on without him, yet we will all be thinking of him and our hearts will swell with pride as we wish him "God Speed" in his brave, new career.

We have tried to include all those who have entered the service since last June, who have not had the opportunity to graduate.

A Salute

To the graduates of the DeKalb Township High School who have entered the Armed Services since December 7, 1941.

Dear Joyce,

Well here I go to try to finish a whole page.

On this page is space for you to collect the names and addresses of your friends as they leave for the service. The Kalibre will provide a safe and permanent location for these addresses.

Don't forget to write today.

I don't know hardly ~~what to write~~ ^{but I} ~~sure~~ ^{we} have had fun these four years in high-school. I'll always remember the first time you walked into our freshman English class. That day really started something too - don't you think.

I don't have to say what I think of you - I think you know. You're one of the sweetest gals I know - in fact the best.

Don't forget our summers up to the lake - I don't think you will - and some of those other parties we used to have - New Year's Eve.

I've known you four years, Joyce, and I'd just as soon know you about 40 more.

Remember our Senior Picnic - hey I hope we have fun don't you?

Don't forget all those long talks we've had about everything in general and something in particular I'll see you a lot this summer

 now so I guess I'd better quit
 I wish you best of luck when this war is over & Cocky
 comes home!!
 Love it easy —

Bye —
 And tell
 my love,
 Carol!

As Time Goes By

SEPTEMBER

13. Five hundred eighty-eight DTHS'ers register today. Cause of the many tumbles in the main hall—the ramp is now a stairway. Elementary, my dear Watson, elementary.
14. Our athletes get their medical exams today. Gee, there surely have been some changes made. Those red steps with green risers, but you know they aren't so bad after the first shock wears off.
15. Won't those frosh ever learn to drive to the right? We upperclassmen seem to enjoy directing(?) the last frosh to their rooms.
16. Some of the seniors are worried 'at the lack of king-size frosh.
23. Girl Reserves organize today. So does G.A.A. quite naturally.
24. Kewanee takes home the bacon, but she had to fight for it.
25. Friendship Fling sponsored by the seniors. Many of the old friendships continue it seems, and the new ones, nuff said.
28. Barblet out. It surely looks swell in its printed form. Clyde Campbell of the C.A.A. of the U. of I. speaks. Strange how eager are our students to return to their classes.

OCTOBER

1. Our second game. "We won, by golly, we won".
5. The lightweights beat Sycohi. Mr. Sullivan speaks to the Frosh and Sophs.
6. Girls Reserves and G.A.A. hold a joint picnic.
8. We give Hall Twp. a drubbing, 14-12.
11. We see a movie on the "U.S.S. Hornet."
12. Bob Cunz elected student prexy. Barblets out. We elected cheerleaders, too. Dr. Max Lerner gives a liberalistic speech 'at the college auditorium. Columbus arrived in America today. If you don't believe it ask Mr. Montgomery or any other faculty member.
13. Julian Gomer comes at us with some beautiful movies, and music, and much pineapple juice. Yum, Yum. Girl Reserves initiate. We 'are serenaded with "Pistol Packin' Mamma."
14. Faculty and Board go picnicing. Does this explain the meatless meat in cafeteria today?
15. We give the Dukes from Dixon a lesson in footballCallahan plays his last game for DTHS. Lots of luck in the Marines, Ray!
20. Kalibre Staff holds its first meeting. We Junior Spartans again victim of our lightweights. Octet sings at the Baptist church.

22. Both of Sterling's teams traveled here for games.
23. Halloween Bounce sponsored by the Super Salesman Soph.
That "Grand March" really sent you (in more ways than one.)
26. Lewis Players present a play. We didn't know we had a "G-Man" in our midst before they showed us Bob's other interest. (Get it?)
P.T.A. discusses whether we need a recreation center.
27. Oh! The moans and groans that re-echo in our halls. Why? Because grades came out, of course.
Girl Reserves hold their Father-Daughter Banquet (Could it be that they thought that that was a good way to soothe their parents' ruffled spirits about their grades? The shortest way to a man's heart is through his stomach, you know.)
29. We bring back the bacon from Ottawa, 21-13.
Miss Minnie Jones leaves us after 44 years at DTHS. Her leaving leaves a vacancy hard to fill in the hearts of many a DTHS student and alumnus.
31. The goblins'll get'cha if you don't watch out. It's Halloween.

NOVEMBER

1. G.A.A. begins hockey tournament playoffs.
2. Social Room Tag Day nets $58.40.
Junior Red Cross drive starts also.
Junior girls wins G.A.A. hockey tournament.
3. Our lightweights beat Rochelle today.
5. We beat Princeton, 20-0, for the North Central Illinois Conference championship.
7. Beginning of Education Week.
8. Nominations for football queen held in home room.
We hear Governor Green's address, "National Education Week."
9. We discuss "Education After the War" in home rooms.
10. Pep meeting.
10:00 A. M. We seniors and juniors travel to the college to hear Rabbi Julius Gordon speak on World Affairs.
2:10 P. M. Rabbi Julius Gordon travels to DTHS auditorium to enlarge upon his remarks at the former session.
We students seem very interested in World Affairs.
11. Armistice Day vacation.
1:30 P. M. DeKalb—Sycamore Classic. Was there ever a game more spectacular?
Victory bonfire at 7:30 P. M. "Bonfire Trio" makes its debut.
"8:00 P. M. Snake Dance"—Football Festival Program.
9:00 P. M. Theatre Party. We all see "Casablanca."
12. Final Election for Football Queen—8:30 A. M.
Dedication of new Social Room—2:15 P. M.
7:30 P. M. Football Festival Program. Wonderful, wasn't it? Awards, Coronation—Victory Dance.
16. P.T.A. Quarter Century Anniversary Dinner.
G.A.A. basketball for juniors and seniors began.
We are shot for tuberculosis today.
17. Somewhere along about here we elected our first feminine senior class president.
Seems to me that the juniors elected "Fibba" just about now, too.

As Time Goes By--Continued

18. G.A.A. bowling started.
Walter Duranty spoke at the N.I.S.T.C. auditorium on "Russia and Postwar Europe" tonight.
19. Our G.A.A. hockey champs beat the college girls. Purty good, aren't they?
20. Our tuberculosis shots get (read) today.
G.A.A. sponsors the Injun Jam. All the squaws and braves are out for a good time and get it.
22. Dramatic Club organizes.
25. Thanksgiving vacation.
Plenty of turkey, cranberry, 'n everything.
26. "Oh! My stomach's killing me, Oh!" Somebody's eyes were bigger than their stomach.
Sorry. Begging a thousand pardons, my fair maidens, I have just noticed that I forgot to mention your G.R. meeting of the 10 inst. in this calander. Let me assure you that no such tragic error shall ever again occur if it is within my power to stop it.

DECEMBER

1. Kalibre staff busy at work—so saith the Barblet.
2. Press Club organizes. Barbara Renner is made prexy.
3. Frosh elect officers.
4. We play Shabbona in double header at NISTC. We win 32-27.
College loses to Wheaton 63-29. Band under direction of Eleanor Duncan renders its version of "Dixie". For an encore they played it as it was written.
6. Paul T. K. Lin speaks on China's position in the post-war world.
Girl Reserves present "A Christmas Reverie" to Congregational Church.
7. Barblets out today, and what da ya know they're longer and printed in green ink.
F.F.A. Father-Son Banquet.
Second anniversary of Pearl Harber.
8. Girl Reserves meet to hear Miss O'Donnell.
Hi-Y organizes. Mr. Beaumont shows some of his pictures to the group.
9. Sandwich postpones game until Feb. 1.
10. Senior-Junior Prom. Everything was rather frigidly decorated.
14. Busy day for the G.A.A. These sportswomen initiate, have a Christmas party, and give out awards all in one short day. Fast workers, eh wot?
15. Student Receptionists organize.
16. Faculty holds a tea (where do they get the stuff?) for Mr. Bluhm and Miss Bachmann, who are leaving for the service.
Intramural basketball begins. So does intramural bowling.
17. P.T.A. Annual Christmas Party for students, parents, and teachers.
We drop two games at Ottawa. Well, we can't win all the time.

20. Press Club Christmas Party held tonight. Plenty of food for all.
21. The Barblet is still green with a dash of red, but its back to its original size again.
We play Mendota here tonight.
22. Christmas vacation begins, Hooray!!!!
23. Belvidere comes here to play basketball.
24. "'Twas the night before Christmas—"
25. Merry Christmas. Do you believe in Santa Claus? Turkey, "n" cranberries, "n" everythin' (we hope).
29. The Sixteenth Annual DeKalb Invitational Basketball Tournament starts today with sixteen teams participating.
30. The eight winners from yesterday played today.
Will we ever be able to forget that DeKalb-Sycamore game?
31. Final day of tournament Kankakee edges out Sycohi by one point, for the top honors.
"Should auld acquaintance be forgot,"—New Year's Eve.

JANUARY

1. A Happy and Victorious New Year to you all.
Day for making New Year's resolutions.
Remember, boys, this is Leap Year.
2. Day for breaking New Year's resolutions.
3. School begins and all we students are so happy to return to studies. (Say, who wrote this script?)
4. Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Fitch have joined our faculty taking the positions left by Miss Bachmann and Mr. Bluhm.
5. Mr. Sullivan speaks to the Hi-Y boys.
We vote on our time schedule for next semester and decide to keep the one in operation first semester.
7. Our team travels to Hall Twp. On the way back the Legion finds it impossible to stay on the road.
8. We demonstrate the art of basketball to Mooseheart.
Our debaters go to Elgin for a tourney.
9. Wonder how long it will be before our band gets the name of "Fitch's Band Wagon."
11. The school's organ of the news comes out today.
14. We lose to Dixon in a very close game.
15. Shabbona takes revenge for her defeat on December 4.
18. We beat Sycamore on her own floor.
19. Hi-Y meeting. The boys heard Rev. Billman and enjoyed a recreational period during this get-together.
20. Semester exams today for those not lucky enough to be exempt.
21. Barbs gain third conference win from Sterling.
22. Rochelle travels to us. What's left return.
24. Second semester begins.
25. Lieutenant Joseph Shames speaks during convocation.
26. Semester grades out—such personalities some of us seem to have.
Second Bond Day today. We sell over $12,00 in one day.
27. Hi-Y conducts March of Dimes convocation and collects over $110. Congratulations.
28. DeKalb sinks the Pirates—39-27.
Senior play tryouts tonight.

25. We play Sterling tonight.
28. Senior Play practice begins.
29. M. P. Greenwood presents an assembly.

Dear Jayce
I know we don't know each other well but I thought we don't know each other well
I think I'm safe in saying that it has been swell knowing you. May all your future years be as good with success. Good luck all that etc.
Sincerely M. P. Greenwood

MARCH

1. March comes in quite like a lamb.
3. Sycamore wins the Regional Tournament.
7. Community sings start.
10. Girl Reserves provide us all with a glimpse of "China-town."
14. Our band plays at the All-Stars Game at the college for the benefit of the Red Cross. Barblets out in home room.
15. The Hi-Y holds an indoor track meet for its members. My, the records that were established there. Dramatic Club decides to have a One Act Play Night during April.
17. G. A. A. Sports night attracts students.
18. Taylorville wins the State Championship in basketball and sets a record with 45 straight wins.
20. "Bo" McMillin speaks at a special convocation. He also speaks at the annual County Basketball Banquet. Spring had cub, also much rain and snow.
21. We sing "Mairzy Doats" with apologies by Mr. Radatz today.
22. Lieutenant Gilles speaks to the Girl Reserves today. The girls have Carol Murphy as their guest.
23. Twenty-five seniors and juniors are inducted into the National Honor Society today. Teresita and Emilio Osta present a program of Spanish and Latin-American dances at the college tonight. Twenty-one potential flyers take the Air Corps mental test.
24. Band presents its annual Spring Concert to a large audience.
25. DeKalb takes second at the sectional speech tournament at Elgin.
27. The thinclads start circling the track today.
28. Barblet prints the Student Citizenship editorials.
- 30-31. Senior play "June Mad" becomes a pleasant memory. March goes out like a lion.

APRIL

1. April fool.
Editor's note. We go to press today. From here on you will have to allow for some bad guessing on the part of ye calendar ed.
3. Holy Week early morning services sponsored by the Hi-Y and the Girl Reserves start today at 8:00 A. M. Sperandeo—Assembly Program. This sounds good.
5. Hi-Y initiates. This is sure to provide amusement and entertainment for all concerned except the initiates.
6. Last of the Holy Week services today. Hope you didn't find it so hard to get out of bed that you couldn't attend any of them.
7. We are out for Easter vacation.
9. Easter Sunday. Bonnets, bunnies, and eggs in prominence all day.
10. We come back to school ready to begin a week of six weeks exams, if you know what I mean.
11. Movies and Barblets today. We are supplied with material to talk about for today.

12. The Girl Reserves hold a regular meeting after school today.
18. Such harmony as we do create during our community sings.
19. Second six weeks grades out today—'nuff said. The Hi-Y boys hold another interesting meeting tonight.
